

Information about the Oslo Pass

For detailed information please see www.visitoslo.com/oslopass or our Oslo Pass app. For opening hours, please see the offers` own website.

How to use and activate

The Oslo Pass must be activated at first time use. The physical Oslo Pass by filling in the space provided with a pen. The digital Oslo Pass by swiping the activation button. After activation the Oslo Pass is valid for the number of hours indicated; 24, 48 or 72 hours. During validation the Oslo Pass must be presented on request.

On public transport please make sure that you have an activated Oslo Pass before boarding. You only need to show your Oslo Pass in case of a ticket inspection. Please note that the Oslo Pass is only valid for buses operated by Ruter, not for regional routes (Vy Express or other long-distance buses).

At attractions, please show your activated Oslo Pass at the ticket office. The staff will scan the QR-code on the Oslo Pass. Please note that you can only enter each attraction once a day.

Conditions

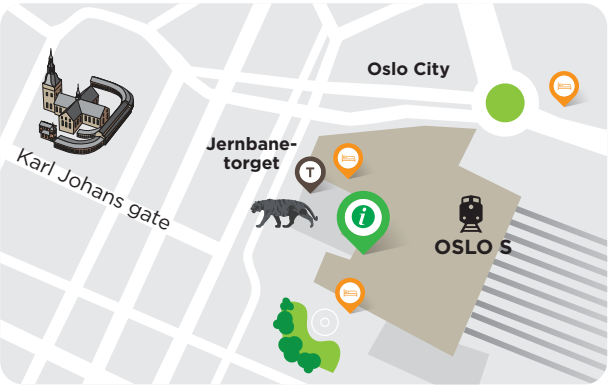

1. The Oslo Pass will not be refunded or replaced if unused, activated, damaged, lost or stolen. The digital Oslo Pass will also not be refunded if the app is uninstalled with unused or activated passes or if the telephone is damaged.
2. The user is responsible to make sure the Oslo Pass is valid for the entire journey when using public transport.
3. Student discount is not valid for the digital Oslo Pass (Oslo Pass app).
4. The user is responsible to check available offers before purchasing the Oslo Pass depending on which attractions a visitor plans to visit, and on which activities are available during the stay due to seasonal changes.
